

Introduction to the USBC Association Volunteer Recognition Program

The United States Bowling Congress has a strong network of volunteers who work through local and state associations to serve the organization's nearly three million members.

These volunteers, who freely give of their time and energy to serve bowlers by enforcing rules, promoting programs, running tournaments, distributing supplies, handing out awards, processing membership and much more, are essential to the success of USBC.

To recognize the commitment and achievement of these valuable volunteers year round, USBC has created the USBC Association Volunteer Recognition Program.

The USBC Association Volunteer Recognition Program consists of seven certificates which can be easily downloaded, customized and printed right from your computer. The program also includes handouts that stress the value of motivation and recognition, offer suggestions to motivate and recognize volunteers for a job well done, tokens of appreciation and creative ways to say "good for you!"

Also available at no cost in the "Associations" section of bowl.com, the USBC Association Volunteer Recognition is an inexpensive way to recognize that "#1 Volunteer," "Director of the Year," "Rising Star," "Clever Coach" or "Impressive Instructor."

To order additional copies of the USBC Association Volunteer Recognition Program at $8 including shipping and handling, call the USBC Bowling Information Center at (800) 514-BOWL, ext. 3161.
