

Motivate & Recognize Volunteers

Here are some suggestions to motivate and recognize volunteers for a job well done!

- Create an appreciation day, week, month or year.
- Organize an appreciation dinner.
- Throw a banquet or party with small awards for various accomplishments.
- Give small fun gifts.

Check out these great, affordable websites:

www.kingpinawards.com

www.positivepromotions.com

www.orientaltrading.com

- Provide certificates of accomplishment at specific stages in their work.
- Send or give them a thank you card/note.
- Host a bowling party for the volunteers and their friends & family.
- Give discounts on food or beverages.
- Offer discounts on games or practice for volunteers.
- Give a gift card for the Pro Shop.
- Offer one private lesson for the volunteer.
- Provide a designated parking spot for the month.
- Make volunteers VIPs, give them exclusive titles or rank insignia.
- Post their pictures on a bulletin board or brag board in a bowling center.
- Display the various rewards for volunteers to encourage participation.
- Post completed projects or credentials of the volunteer in a unique place.
- Give the volunteer public recognition at an event or during heavy open play times.
- Post a recognition message on your website or in your newsletter.
- Offer to send a letter of appreciation for their help to their bosses, teachers, or families.
- Create a reference letter for a job or another volunteer position.
- Offer to put money toward continuing education or additional training.